May 2020

Dear Songwriters,

The Three Rivers Folklife Society is again hosting the Jane Titland Memorial Songwriting Contest in conjunction with the 24th annual Tumbleweed Music Festival, in Richland, Washington, on Labor Day weekend, 2020. Each year's contest features a new song topic based on the theme of the festival for that year. The festival theme for this year will be Wind. Applications must be received by mail or land carrier, or electronically, by May 20, 2020.

Contest entrants need not be festival participants. Preliminary judging will be conducted in May and June, and ten finalists and three alternates will be notified by early July. The finalists will perform their entries for a panel of judges at the festival on Saturday, September 5th. The top three winners will receive prizes and there will also be a people's choice award.

- First place will receive $300 and the 2020 Tumbleweed Songwriting Contest trophy. The winning song will be featured during the Saturday evening concert.
- Second place will receive $150.
- Third place will receive $75.
- People's Choice will receive $50.

Rules and Procedures:

- Each competing artist or collaborating group may enter one original song in the contest.
- The song must comprise the original lyrics and melody of the writer(s)
- Songs may have been previously recorded.
- The writer(s) will retain all rights to the song.
- Submit recording and lyric sheet as instructed on the attached contest entry form.
- Songs must be performed by the writer(s), though others may perform with the writer(s).
- The submitted recording should be representative of a live performance.
- All decisions of the judging panel are final.
- Finalists must perform their songs at the festival on Saturday afternoon to be considered for a prize.
- The winning writer(s) must be able to perform Saturday at the festival evening concert.
- Judging criteria include applicability to the contest topic, song quality, and performance quality.

Photo/Video Release: If accepted for performance, you agree to allow photos or videos of your participation to be used by 3RFS for publicity or grant application purposes.

There's no entry fee, so why not challenge yourself?

Sincerely,
